

Mario Nava (Milan, 1966) holds a first degree in economics from Bocconi University (1989), an MA from the Université Catholique de Louvain, Belgium (1992) and a PhD in Public Finance from the London School of Economics (1996).

Since April 2011, he has been the Acting Director of the 'Financial Institutions' directorate in the Internal Markets and Services DG of the European Commission.

From 1st November 2008 he has also been Head of the 'Banking and Financial Conglomerates' unit. The unit's mission is to develop an integrated, competitive and efficient internal market in which financial institutions – banks, investment firms, financial conglomerates - and their customers can supply and demand financial services in a safe, clear and barrier-free environment. This is for the benefit of users of financial services - consumers or business - and suppliers of these services.

Previously, from May 2004 to October 2009, he was the Head of the “Financial Markets Infrastructure” Unit. This Unit is responsible for ensuring a proper conception and implementation of the regulatory environment for the post-trading area of the EU Financial Markets. From December 2007 to May 2008, he was also Acting Director for the Financial Services Policy and Financial Markets Directorate.

Before this appointment he has been a member of the Group of Policy Advisers of the EU Commission President, Prof. Romano Prodi (01-04). Within the Group he was responsible for economic matters in general and in particular the EU budget and economic policy coordination between the Member States.

Prior to joining the Group of Policy Advisers, he worked first for the Commission's Taxation Department (94-96), then for the Budget Department (96-00), and then in the Cabinet of the Competition Commissioner, Prof. Mario Monti (00-01).

Alongside his work at the Commission he is active in research and teaching. Since 1998 he has been visiting professor at Milan's Bocconi University and a member of the Economic Faculty of ISPI, Milan (Diplomatic School of the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs) and occasional lecturer in many universities across Europe. From 1995 to 1999 he was visiting professor at the Universidad de Belgrano (Buenos Aires) and the Universidad de Cuyo (Mendoza). From 1993 to 1994 he was junior professor at the London School of Economics and visiting professor at the State University of Moscow and St. Petersburg (Russia).
